SAYS LUCIANO OFFERED JOB WITH VICE RING

Convict Testifies He Sought Place as Collector at "Only $35 a Week."

NEW YORK, May 21. - A hotel sneak thief, who is serving a term in Sing Sing prison, definitely linked Charles (Lucky) Luciano today with New York's vice ring. Joe Bendix, who said he painted pictures when he was not robbing hotels, swore at the trial of Luciano and nine others on charges of compulsory prostitution that Lu-ciano promised to get him a job as a collector for the ring. Bendix, 38 years old, admitted he had been convicted six times since 1912 and was now serving a term ranging from 15 years to life for grand largency. He said he had known Luciano for more than nine In May, 1935, he told Supreme Court Justice Philip McCook and a jury, he met Jimmie Frederico (one of the defendants) who promised to talk to Luciano about getting him a job as a collector. He met Luciano the next night, and Luciano asked him why he wanted a job that paid only $35 a week.

Bendix said he told Luciano he wanted steady work even at $35. To this Luciano, according to Bendix, said: "O K, I'll tell Little Davie (Betillo) to put you on."

Bendix did not get the job, though, for he found something else. Two weeks later, however, he saw Luciano again and was told to see "Binge" (one of the collectors). But again other work prevented him from taking the job

He said he saw Luciano once more, talked to him about a col-lector's job, but did not take it. In January, 1936, he was arrested on the grand larceny charge and pleaded guilty.

Jasper Gibilterra Found to the attention of two hotels, one Guilty of Killing Second-Hand Dealer-Jury Out

> Jasper Gibilterra, a former convict, was convicted last night of the holdup murder of William C. Hite, second-hand store proprietor, last Nov. 9, by a jury in Circuit Judge Robert J. Kirkwood's court which deliberated an hour. The penalty was fixed at life imprisonment. Gibilterra's wife, Agnes, who had given alibi testimony in his behalf, fainted when the verdict was read at 9:30 o'clock. The defendant, a short, heavy-set man, 27 years old, retained his composure. He started to address the Court, but was taken from the room before he could finish his remarks.

Against the State evidence of two statements which Gibilterra made to police a month after Hite was found beaten to death in his store at 1809 Franklin avenue and in which he gave two different ac-counts of killing Hite, the defense introduced testimony that the admissions were obtained by force and by misrepresentation of the use to

Presentation of evidence began at noon Tuesday, with policemen testifying that Gibilterra voluntarily made the statements after they had told him an informer had connected him with the crime. Both state-ments were read to the jury. In the first, which he had declined to sign, Gibilterra told of killing Hite after a quarrel. In the second he said he and another former convict beat and stabbed Hite to death when they went to his store to get "the big roll" he was said to have. He signed the second statement.

Defendant on Stand. Gibilterra took the stand to deny that either of the statements was true. "The police slapped my face, punched me in the kidneys, and I made the first statement to get out of the beating," he testified.
"Then they said they didn't be lieve me and said they had locked up my wife, charging her with murder. Detective Lieutenant Murphy and Assistant Circuit Attorney McLaughlin suggested the answers in the second statement and said it was to be used against Sam Scorfina, and I would go free, Gibilterra continued.

Scorfina was the man whom Gibilterra implicated in his account of the murder. The grand jury re-turned a no-true bill in his case. He denied to police that he had participated in the assault.

On cross-examination, Assistant Circuit Attorney William Flynn read one of the answers attributed in the statement to Gibilterra and asked that, if it were false, had he intended to repeat it before a jury if Scorfina were indicted. Gibil-terra replied, "On the strength of clined to clarify the answer.

Alibi Testimony Given.
A defense witness, Mrs. Lucille Hutchcraft, 1449 North Fourteenth street, who said Gibilterra was "her boy friend," testified he was at her home, then at 2221 Cass avenue from 4:30 to 5 p. m. on the day Hite was killed, and that he returned at 8 p. m. and they spent the evening together at a "walka-thon contest."

The State contended Hite was assaulted between 5 and 5:30 p. m. Charles Mantia, then owner of a fruit store at 1815 Franklin avenue, testified for the defense that Hite entered his store about 8 p. m., complaining of feeling ill, and bought some soda. The witness said Hite returned to the store again at about 11 o'clock. Other defense testimony was that someone was heard coughing in Hite's store at intervals during the evening Nov. 9, the last time at 12:30 the following morning.

John Chapman, owner of a furniture repair shop in the basement of the house at 914 North Eighteenth street, in which Gibilterra resides, testified Gibilterra worked for him and that they were driving in his truck between 5 and 5:45 p. m. on the afternoon of the murder. Mrs Gibilterra testified she was with her husband in Chapman's store until 5 o'clock, that he went out then returning to their room 20 minutes

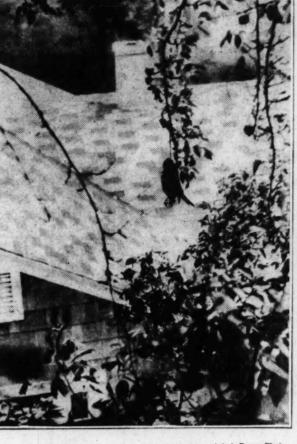

On cross-examination Mrs. Gibilterra denied she had told police her husband's sweater was missing on the day after the murder. In his second statement he said he burned the sweater following the attack on Hite because it was stained with blood. Mrs. Gibilterra testified she saw her husband at police headquarters the day after his arrest and said "I could see he had been beaten. He was sitting humped over in a chair. He couldn't raise his

In July, 1928, Gibilterra was sentenced to two years in prison for automobile theft.

Six hours after his inauguration.

he sent his first message to a spe cial session of the Congress. He said his message did not constitute a "ritual," but embodied the recmendations which "I understand to be the legacy of the revolution.'

President Gomez mentioned plans for a general amnesty for prisoners and exiles, but declared, "It is nec-essary that the morbid state of cruel insanity of killing each other shall not return.

Referring to disorders in Cuba during the last three years, he urged the people to foster a more aceful attitude.

In the Republic's efforts broaden its markets on a reciprocal pasis, the President said:

"We must give preference to re-lations based on the interchange of products among friendly countries in this hemisphere and especially to our great consumer, the North American Union, which merits our gratitude in so many ways for its reiterated, historic acts of benefit and help throughout our existence as a rebellious colony and as a Re-public full of worries and trou-

Outline of Program. He advocated: Equitable distribution of public wealth; utilization of unused lands for small farms; creation of state banks to aid commerce, agriculture and industry restoration of the nation's credit; rectification of retirement and pension benefits for workers in accordance with equity and the ability to pay those benefits, without breaking down the essential obligations of the State; establishment of appropriations sufficient and exclusively for health and beneficence, "to remedy the deplorable state of hospitals and asylums" severe measures of vigilance and restraint to free the consumer from abusive speculation; a public works highways program; revision and modernization of laws and codes; a balanced budget and economy in government, with increasing treasury income; increase of purchasing power of the people, better health and better homes; improvement in educational facilities, and urgent measures to assure the reopening of Havana University, closed for more than a year because of dis-

Autonomy for University. President Gomez advocated plan of "full scholastic and administrative autonomy" for students and professors, with the Government retaining right to send armed forces into the university only in cases of "grave perturbation."

The students, particularly those of the Left wing, have been at odds with the Government for years, and recently demanded restoration of complete autonomy to the university.

Gomez, however, said the univer-sity must "keep exiled from its bosom the heated politics of militant groups, however patriotic.

"The Government cannot, with out minimizing its jurisdiction and violating its duty, consent to dis-order in any part territory," he said.

An Oil that is FAST-FLOWING for starting - yet Tough

30 SECONDS after your engine is started. your pistons travel up and down from 200 to 1500 times!

If your oil flows too slowly (like molasses)—serious wear results!

The starting period, automotive engineers say, can cause approximately threefourths of engine wear.

To combat this wear, auto makers have sought a FASTER-FLOWING oil-provided this oil were TOUGH enough.

At a cost of $3,000,000, Shell engineers have now developed such an oil. The new Golden Shell Motor Oil is FAST-FLOWING ... yet TOUGH!

In starting, it flows quickly. In steady running, the new Golden Shell holds its body under high heat—and resists breaking down into sludge and carbon.

Automotive engineers call the process behind Golden Shell the most important advance in oil refining in 25 years.

And so, this is what the recommended grade of Golden Shell can do:

ADD a year to the life of your engine! SAVE you up to 50% on your yearly engine repair bills. (Many repairs can cost from $10 to $100.) SAVE you a gallon of gasoline in every tankful. (The "drag" of an oil that is too heavy can waste over 5% of your power.)

Stop at any of the 30,000 neighborly Shell stations, and start protecting your engine with Golden Shell today!

in strongly for self-criticism, for condemning themselves as too lax in carrying out Christian ideals. At last night's meeting, the Rev. Dr. Frank Sayers of Rochester, N. Y. ism and the American people as a whole, describing this as an era of "cocktail Christianity."

All that the American people seem to want is money—pensions relief, grants, loans, subsidies, bonuses, he said.

"To many, nothing is left but a live-for-the-moment philosophy," he said. "None need ever look any deeper than the pay-envelope. Nothing excites us today but the melodramatic. The voice of the church seems feeble in such a violent world. Nobody seems to be heard btu the blatant promises of the pied pipers of prosperity.

"See the parade of economic fanatics, the legion of gold grabbers, the brotherhood of belly-achers, all making a drive for governmental gravy. Having lost faith in Santa Claus, they apparently have not lost faith in paper money.

"All Want Favors."

"In higher brackets of society privileged corporations want spe-cial subsidies. Those in poverty want doles. All want money; all want favors. It is a conscienceless people making a drive for cash, a selfish stampede for the god of gold.

"Many American revivalists did not know that black slavery was wrong. Some do not now know that the economic abuses of today are wrong. In their ignorance they call any demand for social justice Communism. But it isn't Communism that alarms me, it is lack of communion-ism, so little commu-nion with God's spirit." He asserted that American Protestants, in spite of their energy, their feverish activity, have "no secret source of power from Com-munion with Christ." As fitting, he cited an Old Testament quotation:

Quoting a statement that 89,000 American Protestant churches are so feeble that they could easily close their doors without being missed, he asserted that the Protestant record of genuine evangelism is still "a sad story of ineffectiveness," and called for emphasis upon real Christianity instead of upon denomination.

"Honest recognition of our human inequality" in attempting to cure the world's ills with applica-tion of Christian ideals was called for by the Rev. Dr. E. F. Adams of Buffalo, N. Y.

"Men Not Created Equal." "This fact of inequality between Asserts United States Is men and between nations makes the Kingdom of God a necessity," he asserted. "We in America are Ahead of All Countries especially fond of quoting the statein Expenditures for This ment that all men are created equal. That is a noble ideal when understood as referring to the value of one's soul in the sight of God, but as a practical matter it is perfectly obvious that all men are not created equal.

We who make whiskey suggest:

"SAY 'NO'

WHEN IT'S ONE DRINK TOO MANY"

THERE is a common problem which you as L consumers and we as distillers share. It is the right use of liquor—drinking in moderation.

Your interest is the continued enjoyment of your personal liberty. Our interest is the many millions of dollars we have invested in American plants, payrolls, grain and good-will.

This provides justification for us to speak frankly about our common problem, moderation in drinking.

American Public to be Congratulated

The American public is to be congratulated on the discretion and sobriety which has accompanied the return of legalized drinking. But here and there we still find the thoughtless individual whose excess discredits the moderate use of liquor by countless

More often than not this thoughtless individual is not recognizably the "enemy of society," or the "alcoholic." He is just plain John Citizen, who takes just "one drink too

Moderation vs. Excess

Every intelligent person realizes that there are

One is moderation: The enjoyment of good liquor for its taste, its aroma, its warmth, and the friendly feeling it engenders.

The other is excess: With the unpleasantness, embarrassment and regret it generally

Between these two there is a sharp dividing line. That dividing line is the extra drink that is "one too many."

"Just One More"

Everyone accustomed to drinking knows this: There comes a point when an extra drink brings no extra pleasure.

For those who thoughtlessly or through good-natured response to a host's persuasion, drink more than they need for pleasure — there is just this to remember:

There can be no better judge of moderation than the individual himself.

A thoughtless minority must not be allowed to endanger the liberty and enjoyment of countless thousands who consume whiskey as it should be consumed - in moderation.

She seemed to think, the witness added, that she was losing what money she had. At the time of this remark, Mrs. Will's interests, which were managed by Fred A. MICHIGAN DEMOCRATS INDORSE COUZENS

Pre-Primary Convention, However, Also Approves Five Other Senatorial Candidates.

By the Associated Press

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 21. -United States Senator James Couzens, a Republican who faces opposition for renomination within his own party, had an invitation today to enter the Democratic primary next September.

In Washington, Senator Couzens received without comment the news that the State Democratic pre-primary convention had indorsed him, with five Democrats, for the senatorial nomination. He has made no announcement of his plans.

The implied invitation to the Republican Senator was contained in a blanket indorsement of all who have been mentioned as possible candidates. The Democrats named are Representative Prentiss M. Brown, former Gov. William A. Comstock, Frank A. Picard, who was defeated by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg in 1934; Ray D. Schneider, Wayne County auditor, and John H. Muyskens, a University of Michigan instructor.

The Democrats, who held their elect eight delegates-at-large, each with half a vote, to the national convention, heard Postmaster-General James A. Farley state in an address last night that "the Governor of a typical prairie state" would be the Trustee Files Action in Cleveland Against Van Sweringen and Four Associates On Board.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. CLEVELAND, May 21.-O. P. Van Sweringen, chairman of the board of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, and four other directors of the road, all residents of Cleveland, were sued in Federal Court today by Guy A. Thompson, trustee in bankruptcy of the road, for recovery of $3,200,000 paid by the Missouri Pacific for terminal properties in Kansas City, North Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo.

Other defendants were: Leonard P. Ayres, banker and economist; Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland Indians ball club; John Sherwin Jr., bank president, and George A. Tomlinson, president of a Lake Erie steamship company The defendants represent the Van Sweringen interests on the Missouri-Pacific board.

Judge Ordered Suit.

The suit was filed under an order ssued by Federal Judge Charles B. Faris at St. Louis Nov. 15. He disapproved contracts for purchase of terminal and affiliated properties for $20,234,260 and interest, and ordered the trustee, a St. Louis lawver, to take proper legal steps to ecover the $3,200,000 already paid.

Purchase of the properties was made from the Van Sweringen railroad interests, which controlled the Missouri Pacific before it went into bankruptcy. Judge Faris called the purchase contracts "improvident unfair, unlawful and overreaching.' Counsel for the trustee in the suit were Ernest A. Green of St. Louis and Jerome N. Bishop Maximino Ruiz of the Catholic Church in Mexico appealed to President Cardenas against the Interior Department's ruling, saying the department gave no legal reason for its refusal to permit moving of the body. Acting Park Commissioner Ludwig Baumann issued an appeal to the public today to water trees in front of their houses, pointing out that, due to lack of rain in recent weeks, the trees have not been receiving sufficient water, and the Park Department is handicapped by lack of sufficient men to water

"Many new trees have been planted throughout the city, and these, in particular, are suffering from lack of water," said Baumann. "The Park Department is trying to get around to all of them as fast as possible, but citizens can help by watering the trees themselves." In addition to the regular force of Park Department employes, some WPA workers are employed in caring for trees, Baumann said.

> We Thought Punishment Was Not Commensurate With Record," Says Samuel H. Liberman.

Although the Bar Committee for the Eighth (St. Louis) Judicial Circuit, which instituted the disbarment proceedings against Everett Hullverson, Eugene J. Schmick and Robert L. Pribble, was not satisfied with the severity of the penalty assessed against them, it developed yesterday when the three attorneys were suspended from the practice of law for one year that their counsel and Boyle G. Clark, chairman of the State Bar Advisory Committee, had agreed to that disposition of the case, which was recommend-ed to the Supreme Court by Special Commissioner John S. Farrington. Frank Hollingsworth of Mexico, who prosecuted the disbarment case, sought leave to file exceptions to the Commissioner's reort when the case was called before the Supreme Court yesterday, but was denied that permis-

Clark recommended to the Court that the Commissioner's report be adopted, mentioning that he was satisfied, in view of a stipulation costs of the litigation, totaling Hollingsworth's Statement Hollingsworth said the Bar Committee for the Eighth Circuit was not satisfied, but he pointed out he was in the peculiar position of representing that committee and being employed by the Advisory Committee, which favored adoption of the report.

Samuel H. Liberman, chairman the Eighth Circuit Committee and president of the St. Louis Bar As sociation, told a Post-Dispatch re porter today his committee did no have a specific recommendation as to the penalty to make to the Su preme Court, but wanted, when i sought leave to file exceptions, to gain time in which to consider rec ommending a more severe penalty.
"We thought that the punishment was not commensurate with the rec rd," Liberman said.

Defendants "Letting It Go." Patrick H. Cullen, counsel for the suspended lawyers, said his clients were not "accepting" the Supreme Court's decision, but were "letting it go at that." The Court, he added had found them guilty "merely of soliciting law suits and advancing and valid claims.

Commissioner Farrington, in his report accepted by the Supreme Hullverson, held that Schmick and Pribble had entered into a conspiracy to engage in the unprofessional and unethical practice of law, becoming common barrators by soliciting damage suits personally and through agents, and that they advanced money to persons who employed them.

These were two of the nine charges contained in the disbarment petition. The Commissioner held that the other charges were not substantiated at the lengthy hearing he conducted in St. Louis last December.

Hullverson had a large practice in damage suits and claims based on injury through silicosis, an occupational disease to which workers in mining, quarrying and cement plants are subject when dust is prevalent. His defense was chiefly on the contention that silicosis occurred frequently among workers in such places and that its results were serious, some imes fatal. He endeavored to show that the charges against him and his associates, Schmick and Pribble, were inspired by mining companies defendants in some of the suits.

Previously Tallmadge had clung to his story that his wife had been killed by a robber whose automobile she had refused to enter.

PARKWAY TAKES SHAPE ON RIVER DES PERES

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH_

Completed at Northern End-City, PWA and WPA Funds Employed.

River des Peres Parkway, laid out as an attractive outer drive and green open space along the southern and southwestern edge of the city, has been taking shape in recent months and the parking of its northern extremity has been completed. Because of the extent of WPA work in progress on it, this newest civic asset has not yet been opened to the public.

Expenditure has exceeded $808, 000 so far, with considerable work yet to be done. This money has been furnished from city bond funds and benefit taxes and by the PWA and WPA.

An area of about 210 acres which used to be a swampy tangle of weeds and wasteland has begun to be transformed into a pleasant winding greensward, fulfilling a scheme originally conceived by the City Plan Commission in 1917. The construction of the River des Peres Drainage Works made the parkway possible.

The river was eliminated and a broad open channel to carry off storm water was constructed, with busy extending riprap lining of the has been a proposal, so far unstoul water sewer laid beneath it. channel. Between the channel and the curving city limit line was left a rather narrow strip of land that had been sioners reported late in 1933 on acquisition of the parkway, between Lansdowne avenue and Morganford road, with an extension along the the water main, complete between neglected Rock Creek from the drainage channel to Christy Park at Holly Hills boulevard. Later. donations and purchases provided along the pavement between Moran additional section along the channel, called Carondelet boulevard, from Morganford to Weber road, a short distance west of Alabama avenue. The aggregate length was nearly 5½ miles.

What Work Has Cost. So far, the accounts have stood: Site, $350,109 (or les than $1700 an 246 in benefit taxes against abutting property; 41/2 miles of 24-foot PWA and bond funds; bridge now under construction to carry the parkway over Watson road, $38,252. o be paid by bond and PWA funds; labor, trees, shrubs and material, estimated at $145,000, paid by the WPA; water main, $7292, furnished by the city.

The width of the principal part of the parkway varies from 160 to 600 feet, with an average of about 300 feet This is the section between Lansdowne avenue and Morganford road. The extension from Morganford road to Weber road amounts to a section of the parkway. The Rock Creek arm is 4500 feet long and about 130 feet wide. No work has been done yet on the latter section, except for some filling of low spots.

Only 12½ acres is taken up by the driveway. Although early advocates of the parkway contemplated baseball diamonds, play spaces Acting Park Commissioner Ludwig to maintain them. The roadway is finished from Earth is mounded for the approaches to the Watson road bridge, which will separate park traffic from the traffic of U. S Highway No. 66, and the concrete piers are under construction. Shaping and planting of the .6 of a mile section between Lansone and Watson is finished and the Negro crew of the WPA is busy keeping the grass and plants watered and the weeds pulled. Hot dry weather has retarded the grass. In spite of its newness this section looks like a park, but a few months ago it was a rough field.

Planting Delayed. There are a few large, old trees near the entrance. Two rows of young elms border the road. Early this year the Government delivenough shrubs and trees to plant the area from Lansdowne to Loughborough avenue, but only one-fourth of the supply could be used as far as Watson road and the balance has been stored in long nursery rows, because February's cold weather prevented planting them. The entire supply consists of 3000 deciduous trees, 2700 flowering trees, 380 evergreens, 116,000 shrubs, 2700 shrub-like vines for banks and 500 rose bushes.

Planting, under direction of Carl Giebel, city landscape architect, is following generally a detailed plan prepared by a committee of three nercial landscapers. It differs from the older fashions of other parks, largely including numerous flowering shrubs and trees, such as dogwood, redbud, horse chestnut, cherry, crab, peach, almond and the varnish tree.

The ground in the northern section, as through most of the parkway, rolls attractively, with high spots along the outer edge. Between Watson road and Gravois avenue there is a patch of deep woods. On either side of Watson road a stretch of divided roadway is provided for, with one branch on high ground and one on low, but only the lower is paved, while the other is graded. Ordinarily dry and barren in appearance, the drainage channel is partly filled when it rains, and drains rapidly. Recognizing that the channel can never be made attractive, the city is seeking to screen it as much as possible by planting. The WPA forces are

The WPA moved in with a force of 450 men five months ago. Present plans of the city for finishing development of the parkway depend on what further allotments may be made by the WPA.

OVER SMITH IN DUEL; BIRDS REGAIN LEAD

By J. Roy Stockton. Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

NEW YORK, May 21.-Frankie Frisch's Cardinals climbed back into first place in the National League this afternoon, behind the brilliant pitching of an indignant Paul Dean. Somebody gave Paul a harmonica last night and Paul wanted to reciprocate. But when he asked for two box seat passes he was turned down. He became indignant at the club and at baseball in general. The Giants were part of the picture and Paul made the afternoon an unhappy one for them any many of 19,476 cash customers by giving the New Yorkers a sound beating, 4 to 2.

It took a ninth inning uprising by the Redbirds to help Paul put over his very satisfying victory. For eight innings Al Smith, a young man from St. Louis, who always played a zither at home and never gave a hoot for a harmonica, staved on even terms with the nusically inclined member of the Dean family.

But with two out in the ninth, Smith made the mistake of walking Pepper Martin, another harnonica addict. Joe Medwick then singled to right, sending the Wild Horse to third, and when Mize also bounced a single out to Ott's territory, Pepper scored and Medwick reached third. The Cardinal attack didn't end there, which was well for Paul and his desire to quench his indignation by making as many people as possible unhappy. Davis singled to score Medwick and Gelpert doubled to left to send Mize home with the third run of the in-

The Giants rallied in their half and scored a run on successive singles by Leslie, Ott and Leiber, but Mancuso flied to Medwick for the econd out and when Terry batted for Jackson and grounded to Durocher, Paul had his victory to tuck away with his harmonica, even if he didn't have any luck in the pass department. CHICAGO, May 21.-In another one of those close finishes that have studded the Fox River Jockey Club meeting at Aurora, Mrs. Edward Oros' Snorky conquered Mrs. Fred West's Old Nick by a neck today in a five and one-half furlong sprint. Snorky, in a good position from the start, took command as the field swung into the stretch and appeared headed for an easy victory. Old Nick came with a terrific rush, however, and Jockey G. Star Performers of University City and Clayton Force Each Other to Records in Two Events.

By Reno Hahn

Kenneth Leutwiler, University City, and Francis "Bud" Harvey, Clayton, each broke a record in the county track meet preliminaries at University City's field yesterday. These two athletes have been forcing each other to new records for the past two weeks. Yesterday, Harvey set a new mark of 24 seconds for the 200-yard low hurdles in winning his heat, and Leutwiler also bettered the record for that event, in taking his heat, but his time was four-tenths of a second slower than Harvey's. The old hurdle mark was 24.7 seconds, by Everett Watkins, University City, dles by setting a new broad jump record with Harvey second. Leutwiler's new mark was 22 feet 41/4 inches. The old record was 21 feet 5 inches by R. Stewart, University City, made in 1931. Harvey also bettered the old standard with his jump of 21 feet 71/4 inches. University City led in both di-visions yesterday in number of qualifiers, placing nine in the senior division and nine in the juniors. Clayton was second in the seniors, with six, and Webster Groves in the junior with eight. University City, which is spon-vored to win the senior division and give Webster Groves a battle for the junior group in the finals Saturday. The Indians, however, are not eligible to win a trophy, to award cups to the visiting teams only. There will be gold, silver and bronze track shoes awarded to the first three place winners in each

Colorful Setting for High School Field Day Tomorrow; Roosevelt Favored to Win

Final arrangements have been senior and junior pole vaults will made for the holding of the twenty-sixth annual Interscholastic Field day tomorrow afternoon at the Dublic Schools Stadium and the problem of the senior and junior pole vaults will get under way, as well as the midget high jump. Track events will begin at 1:45 and all music will be banned for the rest of the afterty-sixth annual Interscholastic Field day tomorrow afternoon at the Public Schools Stadium, and according to League Manager A.
H. Plag of Soldan, it should be one of the best meets in the history of the league.

Apart from the interest aroused by runners speeding down the track of weight-throwers putting the shot, there is a great deal of attention being paid to giving the event the proper background. Stu-dents from all the schools, garbed in Red and Black, Red and White, Orange and Blue, and so forth, sit n sections assigned them and the ensemble makes a pleasing conrast. More than 9000 students are expected to be in the stands.

The seven high schools will be dismissed in time for the students ing ceremony at 1 o'clock. A parade of all Public High School bands and athletes will start the program. After that there will be flag-raising exercise. Then from 1:15 to 1:45 there will be a band concert in which the bands of all the schools will play as a unit. While the bands are playing, the earned him the judges' decision and dangerous hitter on the team and he was the only fighter who showed a really lethal punch during the evening.

Louis Laurie, the first of the three Cleveland boys to win places on the team, opened the program by outpointing Jimmy Urso of Detroit in the 112-pound class. Jimmy was a Golden Gloves champion but Laurie, a straight puncher and aggressive, kept him off balance throughout the fight and had it all his own way until the final round. Here he evidently tried for a knock out and stood toe to toe with his foe exchanging punches. It was rather a foolish thing to do for Laurie had the bout won. Never theless, even at slugging he bested his foe and won easily.

Jackie Wilson, a Negro, also from Cleveland, won in the 118-pound class. Wilson was another boy heralded as certain to make the grade. He had several amateur titles to his credit, two of them in the 112-pound class. He also was the National A. A. U. 112-pound champion. His opponent was Johnny Brown, a rugged-looking Chi cago boy, holder of the Chicago and the intercity Golden Gloves out of his class, he looks all the way the better man. Wilson is a rangy, lath-like Negro, with long, thin arms. He is fast as a streak and he filled the aggressive Brown's face full of gloves throughout the show. He showed more cleverness than almost any other boxer on the card and made his opponent miss time and again. Although Wilson landed solidly with long rights, he failed to indicate that he owns a damaging punch. Nevertheless he appeared about the most skillful boxer on the Olympic squad to this writer.

Ted Kara, still another Cleveland product, won the featherweight title at 126 pounds from Joe Church, a Batavia, N. Y., Italian. Church was A. A. U. champion, while Kara was a Golden Gloves winner. Kara, although given a hard fight by Church, outclassed his opponent and won all the way. N. B. A. Champion Does Not Want to Fight in New York-Will Rest Another Month Before Boxing.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Petey the New York Athletic Association sanctions him as world's featherweight champion.

That, said Manager Jimmy Erwin vesterday, is the attitude of the National Boxing Association titleholder toward the New York commission's action in naming Mike Belloise as champion.

'We're champion in 45 states, and if New York wants to play a lone wolf role and run a little show of its won, it's okay by us," explained

"We're not interested in fighting in New York for two reasons. First, New York is not much of a financial spot now for a featherweight fight, and, second, we wouldn't consider fighting unless we got the champion's rather than the challenger's share.

Erwin said Belloise, named by the New York body as its champion, would be "easy pickings" for Sarthe top, taking the small end of the purses, but now that Petey is champion, we're going to collect, ourselves.' Erwin said Sarron had been "flooded" with offers of fights, including one from Honolulu and one from England. Petey is going to rest for another money and then we'll start fighting again, taking the best offers as they appear." He added: Sarron will be a fighting champion, and we'll put the title up at stake every time we get a suitable cash proposition." Although he has been N. B. A.

featherweight champion hardly more than a week, after beating Freddie Miller here, Sarron would like a title go with Tony Canzoneri for the lightweight crown. I think Petey can beat Canzoneri and we'd like nothing better than to get a crack at him," Erwin said.

The Real Menace.

"WHO'S going to stop the United States team?" is a natural inquiry. Considering that our athletes are growing bigger and better each year and that we now have splendid material in all except the long distance running events, we naturally wonder what nation is going to halt our progress. We put this up to Lyman Bingham, Brundage's first lieutenant.

"The German," was his prompt response. "The Hitler regime has developed a nation-wide system which has brought into the open all available athletic talent and has built it up for three years. They have a marvelous plan. Our reports are that we will have to be better than usual to dominate the track and field games.

It is the policy of the Olympic Committee, this year, to make all sports self-sustaining. Those that provide a surplus will be helping those unable to raise sufficient funds.

The Final Tryouts.

"WE still have several important events from which we hope to add to the Olympic funds," Bingham continued. "The biggest of these will be the final tryouts at the new field on Randall's Island, New York.

"Don't let anyone tell you that this field will not be ready for the occasion. I have here showing that the track and the field already are completed and this photo shows that the stands are well advanced. We still have until July 10 to complete them. "The stand will seat 32,000 and we expect to pretty near fill capacity on both days.

"We'll still be needing funds and there isn't much doubt that good friends of the Olympic Games will have to be solicited to come to our help. It has always happened in the past."

DE PALMA IS NAMED REFEREE FOR 500-MILE INDIANAPOLIS EVENT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 21 .-Ralph De Palma who has driven more miles in competition over the Indianapolis Motor Speedway course than any other man, will be the referee for this year's annual 500-mile race to be run May 30.

The gray-haired De Palma had planned to be pit manager for Henry (Hank) Banks of Royal Oak, Mich., who will drive a car built by De Palma, but his appointment as referee automatically eliminates him from that job.

Back in 1915 De Palma won the 500-mile race and he finished in the money in four other races here. Once his car stalled when he was leading the race by a wide margin and he had only two laps to go. He retired from competition in 1934. Col. Edward V. Rickenbacker, president of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Corporation, who made the announcement of the appointment, was a rival of De Palma's on the two and one-half mile brick

NAPANOCH, N. Y., May 21.— Max Schmeling thrilled a large gallery here yesterday with eight rounds of work in preparation for the June 18 scheduled 15-rounder against Joe Louis at the Yankee first training session in three days. The Black Uhlan sparred two heats with Stanley Ketchell of Bloomfield, N. J., and three more against Heinz Kohlhas of Germany. He shadow boxed one round and one more each punching the sand LAKEWOOD, N. J., May 21.-Joe Louis, tuning up for his June 18 pattle with Max Schmeling at the Yankee Stadium, yesterday continued to adhere to his "knockoutper-workout" program. Donning the gloves yesterday afternoon for his third boxing session Shufflin' Joe selected Jim Dowling as the day's victim and rendered the New Yorker null and void after a few seconds more than a minute of milling.

In all, the Bomber boxed a total of four and one-third rounds one each with Jersey Joe Wolcott, Jack Tornado, Frank Wotanski and Tiger Roy Williams and the fraction with Dowling. Louis will not don the gloves again until Saturwhen several new recruits in the shock brigade are expected to

The day, incidentally, marked another birthday in the Louis entourage. One week ago Joe him-self celebrated the twenty-second anniversary and yesterday Blackburn, his coach and trainer, hung up No. 61 on his scoreboard. TWO-INNING ATTACK

MARCH of FASHION (

Sylvia Stiles

YOU want to play the leading role in any fashion play, get one of those summer evening dresses which have a full length sweeping cape. Mrs. Richard Kline was wearing one at the symphony concert last night and it was as smart as any evening costume seen hereabouts in many a day. The shade was navy blue and the trimming white pique, both associated with daytime trends but adapted quite successfully this year for evening.

The sketch gives you an idea of the dramatic qualities of these cape ensembles. The dress, quite simply designed with shoulder straps and a pique band going under the arms, has a brilliant clip to give to the bodice a slight V line at the front. The cape is collared with white pique and al-though very trimly cut at the shoulders easures yards and yards at the hemlines sociated with regal splendor so who could blame Miss Virginia O'Hearn, Queen of the St. Louis University Student Conclave, for getting herself a purple evening frock to wear dancing? It's most becoming, too, as those who saw her at the Hotel Jefferson is mouseline de soie and the style quite worth noting. The bodice is gathered full to a high neckline where a wide bias fold forms a collar that fits high across the front but dips to a deep decolletage at the back. The skirt is very slender at the waistline but quite full at the hemline. Folds of the fabric graduating from a half inch to more than two inches rolls of the latter graduating from a man hard most and the skint. A taffeta ribbon sash is tied with a huge bow and a taffeta slip gives a swish to the costume. White sandals and a corsage of white gardenias are exactly right for this dress.

Although there are shades and shades from which to choose this season, St. Louis women aren't the least bit concerned over the recurrence of navy blue. They wear it for evening as well as for daytime, and invariably have at least one costume which blue accessories, although the dominant note may be gray or May wine.

NAVY PREDOMINATED in the costumes of attractively dressed women seen on a recent evening at Hotel Chase. There was Mrs. Kenneth J. Saunders in a dark blue net jacket frock that used white accents in a striking manner. The fitted jacket had a sailor collar which was finished with graduated bands of white. It fastened with a double button arrangement at the waistline. The one-piece dress was short sleeved, had a high round neckline and a skirt pleated at center front

Navy blue accessories were chosen by Mrs. Stanley M. Walsh for her May wine silk coat ensemble. The dark red material was dotted with white and was used for the tailored frock as well as for the long fitted coat. The coat had collar and cuffs of white pique. It was quite tailored even to the vent at the back. Mrs. Walsh's hat was a wide brimmed model of navy blue rough straw and her hat and bag were

Mrs. Harold E. Gorg wore a light gray crepe frock that employed both wine and navy as accents. The neckline had one fold of wine crepe and another of navy which tied at the front, giving a cowl effect. A four-inch panel made of stripes of the two shades went from the front of the neckline to the bottom of the skirt. Three-quarter length inge of yellow. It is also regarded by stylists as attractive for bridal brim. Gloves and bag also were navy.

-0-0-BLUEBONNET BLUE, navy and wine make a stunning alliance and Mrs. Louis Renfrew, chairman of the Women's Safe Drivers' School of the Safety Council, combines them with a flair that is distinctive. She has been wearing a good looking suit consisting of navy skirt and jacket and an overblouse of the lighter blue flower shade. The jacket has a wide stole of the bluebonnet tone. The third shade is introduced with a belt of the wine tone and a matching carnation. To complete the ensemble, Mrs. Renfrew wears navy strap pumps. a navy hat and copper

-0-0-ANY WOMAN WHO can make herself a suit that is so well tailored and flattering that she becomes one of the best dressed women in a crowd deserves a bit of praise. Mrs. Raymond Bond is the talented more colorful. Some of the newest tailored and flattering that she becomes one of the best dressed women bridge luncheon of the St. Louis Panhellenic Association. It is of navy blue light weight woolen and has the "dressmaker" touch ch stamps it as original. The tacket has a fitted band that goes around the neck and swings wide at the front. A short peplum flares slightly at the sides. The skirt conceals its fullness in pleats at the side seams. A handmade blouse of white crossbarred organdle has an upstanding frill around the neck and down the front to yoke depth. This is edged with Valenciennes lace. The short sleeves also are trimmed with the frills. Clusters of fine tucks supply front person. She wore the suit to the spring

A little brimmed hat of the overturned flower pot type which suits the costume is of navy straw and has a violet cluster st the center front. Mrs. Bond wears a bunch of violets on her jacket. London tan one-strap pumps, a bag of the same light brown leather and white gloves are chic additions to the

THE SUCCESS of a bolero depends upon the wearer. Miss Christine Melcher who is tall and slender looks well in the costume which being shown. adds this short jacket. Her springtime version is of light gray sheer faille. The bolero fastens from neckline to waistline with tiny covered buttons and loops placed very close together. A sailor collar stitched at the edge contributes additional interest. Sleeves are bell shaped. When this jacket is removed, the blouse of the one-piece frock proves to be sufficiently dressy that it can go to dinner as well as to a luncheon bridge party. Collar and gilet are of embroidered white marquisette Short sleeves owe their puffed up appearance to darts at the armholes A series of white narrow gores gives the skirt a front flare. A navy leather belt fastens with a rhinestone clip and Miss Melcher repeats the navy shade with a large rolling brimmed sailor of navy felt, navy

Miss Margaret Whitelaw has a clever frock which illustrates how the redingote theme is being applied to young fashions. The redingote is of brown chiffon and is worn over brown crepe dotted with white. The sheer coat has elbow length sleeves which are finished with white organdle cuffs and a turnover collar of the organdle. Brown felt hat and brown fabric and leather pumps complete the ensemble.

DOESN'T A powder puff print sound intriguing? It looks that ", too, as worn by Mrs. Harry Bischoff, who is prominent in musical reles. She has been seen at several spring events in a becoming printed jacket dress, the navy background of which is almost covered with little powders. with little powder puff designs in tones of chartreuse green, blue and rine. Flowers made of the printed crepe and plain green material hold the shirred neckline of the dress in place. The short sleeved jacket is litted and has tailored revers. A navy straw hat displays the forward movement which is accentuated with a little eyebrow veil.

-0-0-WHEN MRS. RALPH COHEN casually threw the jacket of her spring ensemble over a chair in the costume room of a downtown shop and accidentally displayed the handsome printed lining, it didn't take an ingenious passerby long to discover the possibilities of wearing it wrong side out. So if this well dressed St. Louisan should appear with a red and black printed coat faced with black sheer woolen, it will be because she couldn't resist the temptation to try it. The blouse is of the louise wagger coat same with a red blue swagger coat same with same w same print. It is of the shirtwaist type, fastened with crystal buttons and short of sleeve. Mrs. Cohen wears a handsome rhinestone clip at Layemore gaily the neckline. A Breton sailor is in keeping with the character of the blocked si

THIS is the season of June Weeks and Commencement flestas in general—and it is also the threshold of the organdy evening dress

Such lovely colors are to be found in frocks made of this diaphanous fabric, and if the imported variety is chosen, models will stand up surprisingly under packing and wearing. It is a simple thing, anyway, to press out an organdy dress when it gets really crushed and mussed, and to compliment the imported variety again, it is treated with a "permanent finish," which means that it will come out crisp after laundering and ironing, even without the use of starch.

THERE are loads of ante-bellum, Southern belle models to be had, dresses with bouffant skirts and tightly fitted bodices, adrip with ruffles, flut-

John J. Moriarty, 30 Aberdeen place, formerly a vice president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co., was adjudicated a bankrupt yesterday. His voluntary petition in bankruptcy listed liabilities of $120,554 and assets of $1232. Secured liabilities amounted to

THE BATTLE OF THE BEERS AND DREWRYS ALE

What is happening in beer-flooded America is certainly of life and death importance to the beer brewers. But it ought to be of considerable importance to the beer drinkers.

America is being flooded with cheaper and cheaper priced beers.

Whether this means poorer and poorer beers is up to the drinker to decide. * * *

Beer, after all, starts with the basic commodities of malt and hops, plus water. And the genius for brewing them.

But what happens to the percentages of malt and hops and water as prices drop is anybody's guess.

The disturbing thing to the drinker is that the old National Brewing strongholds of known quality have been most furiously attacked, and some of them, in price structure at least, have fallen.

* * * It is time - and this is said merely with a gesture of good will - it is time that the drinkers of America have a better. understanding of what these few comparatively well known beers have meant throughout a long, long past in maintaining the beer quality of America. * * *

As for Drewrys Ale - it is not in price competition anywhere in America. And therefore, it has no axe to grind.

Drewrys is the finest possible ale that money can produce, and the drinker who orders it expects it to have the quality that Drewrys has no problem. Of the hundred and forty-seven cheaper ales that came into our markets a year or two ago, very few are left.

So when it comes to the drinking of ale, the public does want quality - and can more easily recognize quality. * * *

But beers are another matter. Beer is a weaker drink, a lighter-bodied drink, and the standard of quality, at first, is much more easily confused.

In our beer drinking right now it is not a bad idea to stick to known names where, for half to three-quarters of a century, we have had known quality.

FEB. 2nd:

Included in father's estate is a defaulted note for $5,000. I wonder if it can be collected.

FEB. 10th:

Have demanded payment on the $5000 note.

FEB. 25th:

George Walbers, whose defaulted note father's estate holds, has asked me to wait for 60 days and promises payment then.

APRIL 27th:

Walbers asks for 30 days additional time and says he will make payment then without fail. I'll give him another month and then bring suit.

MAY 28th:

Walbers didn't pay and asks for more time but I'm sure he's stalling and am going to put the note in the hands of my attorney for collection.

My attorney tells me I can't collect on Walbers' note.

He says the note was outlawed 30 days ago by the running of the Statute of Limitations. If I had brought suit prior to May 1st I could have collected. The sad part of it is that Walbers is good for a judgment.

Inexperienced management never represents a saving. Every business man recognizes this. True in business, it is just as true in the complicated business of administering an estate.

Such courts all over this broad land have been glibly disposing of many acts of Congress, duly passed approved by the President.

In the past, it has been the practice, when a constitutional question was raised in the lower courts, for the court forthwith to certify the case to the Supreme Court for adjudication on the constitutional point raised, the lower courts not presuming to pass on so weighty a matter as nullifying acts of Congress.

Is there a purist on earth with the nerve to question the grammatical nicety of a Cardozo utterance? Probably not. Gompers believed that labor should keep itself free to fight its own economic battles without interferen He stood firmly against all proposals looking in any degree toward the compulsory arbitration of indus trial disputes or the creation of any agencies that might, with the turn of the political wheel, destroy labor's independence. He warned constantly against the designs of "well-intentioned but uninformed" people who were "desirous of doing things for the workers and establishing institutions for them that will prevent their doing things for themselves and maintaining their own institutions."

Clear echoes of the Gompers philosophy are found in the comment of labor leaders on the Suprem Court's decision upsetting the Guffey coal law. After expressing his disappointment, William Green, the present head of the American Federation of Labor, said: "It (the decision) emphasizes the growing need of organization among the workers. After all, we must rely on our economic strength." W. L. Hutcheson, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpen ters and Joiners, seized the occasion to admonish the United Mine Workers to stay within the fold of the A. F. of L. The St. Louis Relief Crisis

Grant of $75,000 does not begin to solve problem of city's destitute, says Pulitzer Prize novelist; reminds that even before being dropped from relief rolls, 23,000 persons were "living below all decent standards"; views recent demonstrations as surprising in restraint; calls for awakening by persons in responsible positions.

By Josephine W. Johnson.

FTER three weeks of waiting and three weeks of promises, nine of the most needy cases cut off relief received $1 out nine dollahs? What happened before a small sum was appropriated by the city to care for the 23,-000 people it had cut off relief? How did 23,000 people live for over three weeks without income of any kind? Three weeks may be a brief time in relation to eternity, but unfortunately the need to eat is a punctual

Is it sufficient to point with pride that the streets are quite clean of corpses? Slow starvation is not a spectacular disease, and death certificates are written out under other causes, ignoring malnutrition as the Those denied relief lived by the charity of their friends and neighbors. Subdi-

"My kids won't eat it—it makes 'em sick." No bread. No salt. No sugar. Some of the prunes were good. me had to be soaked and the weevils skimmed off the top.

For three weeks, while committees met or failed to meet, while plans were discussed and referred and tabled and taken up and put down, the energy of 23,000 people was expended in contriving a way to keep alive. Seventeen persons lived in three rooms and waited for Aldermen so refer the matter to another committee.

Unfortunately, most of the unemployed be lieved that something was actually going to be done for them soon. They waited without audible protest and did not make themselves obvious or annoying. Through fear or ignorance or lethargy, due to repeated defeat and bad food, they remained at home or walked the streets hunting a job because they were classed as "employable." Health and strength and skill became a liability under the new ruling that all who were capable of work be removed from the relief

Workers' Union were brought about by a minority of the workers-but an articula minority. They expressed the bitterness, the desperation and the need of all the 23,000. They waited outside the City Hall in the rain while the evicted ones among them received promises of housing and the hungry ones received promises of food, and when these promises proved to be as empty as their own stomachs, they refused to go home and be nice about it. Instead, they ed in making very obvious the fact that, although the affairs of St. Louis seemed to be going on as usual and the heads of corporations found a definite increase in profits and the waiters were very busy at the Park Plaza, for three weeks several thousand men and women had been living on prunes and dry peas and promises-and were tired of it.

was something both inspiring and shameful about the sight of the unemployed picketing the relief office and camping in the City Hall. Shameful in the fact that it was necessary to shout, to parade, to carry banners and to demand what should have been merely a recognized right. Shameful in the fact that society is so organized that men and women have to combat public indifference with noise and banners, have to stand for hours in the rain and march all an opportunity to live by their own ability. That they did not employ even more jungle tactics in a world apparently governed by the jungle rule of force is surprising. The march was inspiring in its spirit of unity and in its courage. "I couldn't mahch with 'em," said one little Negro woman crippled with arthritis, "but I held up a bannah for

The feeling of being together, of understanding and of solidarity was apparent They were there out of necessity for themselves, but they spoke and acted for hundreds of others. They are beginning to realize the deeply buried causes of their condition and to know that only together will it be possible for them to find a sane way out.

That a certain sum has been appropriated for relief is no answer to the question. Before this "crisis," the unemployed were living below all decent standards. The cause of this cannot be rooted out by $75,000, nor can families be decently cared for even temporarily by such a sum.

"These are my people as well as your peo-ple!" shouted an Alderman with a quiver in his voice, to a meeting of ministers and civic leaders and speakers from the Workers' Union. "But my duty is to the poor struggling taxpayer who is trying to keep a roof over his head." That the roof is quite solid over a good many taxpayers' heads was pointed out to him, but that in their helpless search for funds the Aldermen should go where the money very obviously can be found was apparently a suggestion too simple to be considered. It is up to those in civic positions of responsibility to realize that the interest and welfare of every citizen is inextricably bound up with the whole economic system. Lack of funds is no excuse as long as the means of producing wealth and the labor with which to produce it are both idle. shrunken and limited life of the city's people is not a matter to be disposed of in a committee meeting. Nor can it be solved until we go beyond traditional rights and theories and standards and recognize that life is more important than property. Until then, we cannot plan with any real wisdom.

Automatic Landing

From the New York Times.

FEW of the passengers of an airplane realize the responsibility thrown on the pilot during the crucial moment of landing especially at night or in a fog. Once he has picked up the radio beacon of an airport, he must keep a vigilant eye on at least seven purely navigational instruments which indicate air speed, altitude, rate of descen position relative to the radio beam a the like. Hence the research which has be conducted here and abroad during the las 10 years to lighten the human task and make it possible to bring the plane down automatically.

That the problem should at last have been solved, according to a dispatch from Chicago, is welcome news. Safer air travel is the bvious end achieved.

Yet it would be a mistake to suppose that blind landing has at last been reduced t complete automaticity. Indeed, it is doubt ful if that goal will ever be achievedwhether it is desirable to achieve it. The new gyroscopic robot becomes part of th two most important instruments as an air port is approached—the directional gyr compass and the artificial horizon; the others must still be watched by the human eye

How little are we able to foresee the need of tomorrow when the inventors have their way! Just about a generation ago, the Wrights vaulted into the blue without any instruments at all-delighted to leave the ground. Gyroscopes and pendulums were soon proposed to keep a plane on an even keel in flight. Altitude and speed meters early became necessities.

But that some day instrument boards would present so bewildering an array of indicators that one pair of human eyes could not encompass them all and that ar-tificial senses would have to be devised to aid a pilot—the pioneers never imagined that. Yet it is all a natural evolution. airplane is becoming more and more bird-like. And birds are not the simplest mech anisms in the world.

TOO MANY ISSUES. From the Baltimore Sun

THIS business of Mr. Hoover saying the I are to be 30 issues in the coming campaign is disconcerting. Fortunately, there was not much time between trains in Chicago and Mr. Hoover wouldn't say what the 30 issues, or fraction thereof, will be. But the mere contemplation of 30 issues in the abstract is bewildering.

We are reconciled to the existence of the NRA, AAA, SEC, PWA, WPA, CCC, RFC, HOLC, FDIC, FHA and TVA as issues, but that is only 11, leaving 19 others to develo between now and the great plebiscite. It not difficult to think of 19 other issues, in cluding Mr. Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt, nine Supreme Court Justices, Jim Farley, human rights vs. property rights, the Roosevelt voice rubber vs. boloney dollars and Rooseveltism as a whole. But to dwell on the thought of v. Landon, Mr. Hoover, Senator Borah of whom have you taking them up in a serious way is a phantasmagoria to frighten little

We suggest to Mr. Hoover that the real is sue will be: "Do you like Mr. Roosevelt as well on the platform of 1936 as you did on the platform of 1932, deceased?" In briefer terms: "Do you like Mr. Roosevelt, or can't you stand him at all?" There will be more than 30 ways of framing this issue, but is the end it will all come to the same thing.

George Peek on the Warpath Against the Administration for Its Failure to Keep Promise to the Farmers.

By GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON. WASHINGTON, May 21.

EORGE PEEK is on the war-G path about what he thinks is the administration's failure to give farmers what they were promised in the 1932 campaign and in AAA. He is folding up his Washington encampment and going out o his Corn Belt home to wage bat-le among the farmers themselves. That is a lot more serious than t may look to the casual observer. If any man is the architect of farm relief, that man is George Peek. He spent all his time for 15 years, and a large part of his fortune, fighting for it. He has the tenacity of a bulldog and the zeal of a cru-not in equal pieces, either. If he took the stump he could take the bigger part of it with him. The story has gone out that this means George Peek is going back to the Republicans-horse, foot and guns. The man who started that doesn't know George Peek. Peek doesn't care about either Republicans or Democrats. He just cares about farmers. He is a man with a cause, a single-track mind and the fighting qualities of a wolver

He will try to get his idea into the Democratic platform. If they take it, he will fight for them. If they don't, he will try the Republicans. If they take it, he will support them. If neither party takes it, he won't support either. He will concentrate on Congressional campaigns. He will start just where he started in 1920 and left off in 1932.

German Dishes Will Give New Taste Thrill to Everyday

If you yearn for a new food thrill here is a suggestion that will meet with approval. The food of other countries will always change a point of view and provide new interest to the menu that has slipped into commonplace.

Favorite Dishes

Many of us are familiar with German cookery and the favorite dishes. Potato dumplings are fain all German restaurants and you may have the fun of making them at home by following a simple recipe. There must be enough flour to hold the dumplings together while they are cooking in he salted water, however.

Wilted lettuce is another German For this purpose Boston, or loose leafed lettuce, serves better than the compact iceberg. For meat the sauerbraten, or marinated pot roast of beef and for a dessert an apple cake and a cup of steam-ing and well made coffee and you have a meal that is excellent from all standpoints. Flavors do make a difference in foods and you will find the flavor of these dishes to your taste.

Bacon Tempts Appetite. Appetites may need a bit of coaxing in the morning, and one of the best tempters is a bit of bacon. That may even tempt the sleepiest member of the household to forego "forty winks" in favor of a real and nourishing morning

Fruit has become a part of the American breakfast, and a combination such as bacon and pineapple proves a popular breakfast

Bacon With Pineapple. Twelve slices of bacon. Six slices pineapple.

Salt. Place a single layer of bacon in a cool frying-pan. Place over a slow flame. Pour off the fat as it forms in order that the bacon may be dry and crisp. Remove to the center of a hot platter and keep hot. Season a little flour with salt and pepper. Dip the slices of pineapple in flour, covering both sides. Brown in very hot bacon fat and serve on the platter around the bacon slices.

Another way in which bacon may be used to give flavor to breakfast is in bacon muffins. Your family's delight in these muffins will well repay you for the little extra time

Even if there isn't time for special dishes on the week-day breakfast menu, isn't it nice to make Sunday morning a festive occasion for the family by giving a little extra thought and effort to breakfast? Sausages on Sunday morning start not only the day but the week in happy fashion.

Sunday Morning Sausages. Twelve link sausages. Two tablespoons flour. Six triangles toast.

Ground, They May Be Molded Into Steaks and Chops and Served Attractively.

It is surely nice to know that you can have that delicious flavor peculiar to broiled meats as often as you like, even if your food budget calls for the purchase of the economical, less demanded cuts of meat. Have your meat retailer grind these cuts. Then with a little bit of clever manipulation in the formation of the ground meat, you may think you're broiling a fancy

Grinding Makes Tender.
The grinding breaks up the connective tissue in these less tender cuts and makes it possible to cook them successfully by the broiling method. The only thing you need to worry about is the preparing of the meat so that it will stay together and make an attractive appearing final product. There are several simple ways, however, to accomplish this. Seasoning the meat and forming it into small patties each of which is wrapped with a slice of bacon and fastened with a toothpick seems the most common way. If you want to be even more certain of the shape of the finished patties, you can knead the meat a little before forming it into shapes. Kneading will have a tendency to develop a natural cohesion in the meat itself. This may still not be enough so some women take further precautions and add a slightly beaten egg, some catsup or perhaps some well seasoned leftover gravy. Steaks, Chops, of Ground Meat.

It is really fun to form these ground meat mixtures into shapes of chops or steaks and broil them in that manner. It is necessary to take particular care, though, when you turn them so that the steak doesn't lose the "tenderloin section" or the chop break in two! The planked ground beef recipe gives you an idea for a royal way to serve broiled ground meat and the lamb patty recipe is an example of broiling a meat which has been previously cooked. The seasonings can be varied to suit the likes of your family, but the method of broiling should not be changed. Placing the meat in a hot broiling oven, three inches away from the flame, and allowing it to broil until well browned on one side, then turning the meat and allowing it to finish browning on the other side has proven the easiest method of broiling and also the method which produces the most juicy and palatable product. When the budget shows no loopholes and the family is hard to please try some broiled ground meat. It will prove itself worth your while.

Planked Ground Beef. Mix two pounds of ground beef with a little chopped suet, two tablespoons of chopped green pepper, one-half cup of catsup, two tea-spoons salt, one-half teaspoon dry mustard and two tablesnoons Worcestershire sauce. Arrange the meat into a flat oval cake and place in the center of a buttered plank. Place in a preheated oven so that there is a distance of about three inches between the top of the steak and the element of flame. When the steak is nicely browned on one side, turn. Surround steak with little sausages and peach halves in which cloves are inserted. Return plank to the oven until meat and peach halves are brown and sausages are done. Serve at once.

Broiled Ground Beef. (With pineapple.) One pound ground beef. Six slices pineapple. Three tablespoons butter. One-eighth teaspoon celery salt. Flour.

Fruit Juice.

All children are fond of puddings and the next time you make tapioca pudding try cooking the tapioca in pineapple juice. The blend of the fruit juice, with the tapioca is delicious. All that is necessary to finish this simple pudding is to add extra sweetening, if desired, and then fold the warm tapioca into beaten egg whites. Make a soft custard with the yolks and serve with the pudding.

Strawberry Season Is Now in Full Swing

earlier than it used to, and growing strawberries, for home use brings better berries to market. and for market. Not until the Most city people have noticed that, seventies, eighties and nineties, and may wonder why. One reason however, with the extension of railis that the business of strawberry growing has expanded in the last 10 years chiefly in the early producing states. At the same time hortiting states. At the been at work pro-culturists have been at work pro-ducing new varieties of strawber-industry. Now these are the prinducing new varieties of strawberries, with special characteristics different growing seasons. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has developed seven new varieties in recent years, and hopes still further to improve flavor, firmness and shipping quality, to obtain late varieties in the North, better canning and preserving varieties for the commercial growers, and disease-resistant varieties everywhere.

Another reason for better berries on the market is that the commercial growers are more interested now in grading their product for shipment, so that only the best of it shall go to market. Packing and hipping methods have improved, too, with the result that the berries keep better in transit, and the customer gets a better product for er money.

All this was particularly true of the early strawberries this year. We have been getting them ever since from Florida. A few weeks later shipments began from Louisiana, the biggest strawberry State of all, which had an unusual ly fine crop this spring. Now North Carolina is shipping, and so are Tennessee, the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and Virgina. After that, from the East Coast to the Rockies, and then on to the Pacific Coast, we will have home-grown strawberries until midsummer.

The same things true of strawberries may be said of other fruit crops and fruit seasons, new varieties, better handling, better grad-ing, and better shipping methods, earlier and longer seasons, and bet ter fruit on the markets.

Our choice of fruits right now is by no means limited to straw-berries. Cantaloupes are already coming to town, with a few early cherries, and a new crop of oranges. Watermelons, late this year, should come now any day. We are still getting grapefruit from Florida, and as the Florida shipments fall off, Puerto Rico and Cuba will come along with theirs, until Texas and Florida are back in the market next fall. It is too early now for raspberries and blackberries and dewberries, but they are not far off, with peaches and more melons soon to follow. There are fresh pineapples from Puerto Rico and the Isle of Pines and there are always bananas from Central America.

Such are the offerings of the spring fruit market. They are espe-cially worth considering, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, because they are so valuable and so convenient when it comes to planning meals. Fruits are impor-tant for their food values, they are delicious, they furnish variety and color for the menu and for the table, and usually they are better uncooked than cooked. They are in place in any part of any meal, from the breakfast fruit or marma lade through luncheon or dinner salad, dessert or beverage, and they are sometimes served with meat or vegetables. The chief food value of most fruits is their vitamin content, especially their vitamin C and vitamin A. One reason fruits are valuable for their vitamin C is the fact that they are so often used fresh and uncooked, before they have a chance to lose this vitamin, which is destroyed by cooking. Oranges, lemons, grapefruit, tan-gerines and limes, the citrus fruits, are the richest of all sources of vitamin C. Tomatoes (botanically a fruit) come next. But strawber ries, too, and gooseberries, raspber ries and cantaloupes are excellent sources of vitamin C, while cherries, pineapple, bananas, peaches, apples and watermelon count as good sources. Yellow fruits—apri-cots and yellow peaches especially are rich in vitamin A. Cherries, canaloupes, blackberries and bananas also furnish vitamin A, though in smaller amounts.

S TRAWBERRIES, however, are the spring fruit par excellence. They are the only kind of berries cultivated so widely, and have come to represent a value to the producers of 23 to 42 million dollars annually in recent years.

Farm boys and girls know the wild strawberry that grows in the fields and woods and along the roadsides all through the Eastern half of the United States. Along the Pacific Coast, from Alaska to California, on the mountains of Hawaii, and along the coast of Chile, grows a beach strawberry. These two wild species, taken to Europe and crossed long ago, are the ancestors of the cultivated strawberries now on the market in this country in some 30 major

The first commercial plantings 1800, centered naturally around the four largest markets ston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. Gradually straw-berry culture spread southward and westward, reaching Virginia after the Civil War. By this time all the

The crates in turn must be held firmly in place in the car or truck, with air spaces between and around them. A freight car holds about 440 crates containing 24 quarts, or 229 crates of 36 quarts each. Preferably, the berries are precooled for shipment—so they are cold when they start. Bunkers of ice at each end of the freight car cool the air which circulates about the crates throughout the journey to market. In trucks, the berries are often kept cool by dry ice on top or between the crates

New Comet Coming.

His Ghost Confesses.

Ultra Modern Travel.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

N New Jersey's primaries, Gov. Landon of Kansas won the presidential preference vote by 4 to 1, carrying every county in the State. That is the national political news.

Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York announces positively that he will not accept a third nomination for the governorship. The recent death of his older brother, Arthur Lehman, may have influenced the decision of Gov. Lehman, who had entirely abandoned his personal business while acting as Governor.

A new comet now approaching us, discovered and named for L. C. Peltier, amateur astronomer, who works in a garage, will be the first comet visible to the naked eye since

Once men were in desperate fear of comets; until recently English clergymen prayed "from the Turk and the comet, good Lord, deliver us." Church bells were rung to drive away comets. Now, men take a kindlier view of them, knowing that they are attached to the sun and are members of our solar fam-

Perhaps this new comet with its long tail will carry away some of our depression. You will be able to see it with the naked eye late in July. It will be only 20,000,000 miles from the earth; not far, at cometspeed, but no need to worry.

A Brazilian newspaper, Diario Noite, had a "news beat" in Rio de Janeiro yesterday. Under a fourcolumn "guaranteed genuine" photograph of "Bruno Richard Hauptmann's spirit" brought to earth by a medium, the newspaper published the confession of Hauptmann's ghost that he, Hauptmann, kidnaped Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. This settles that, if you had any doubt about it, and if you believe in spiritualism, except that you wonder why the ghost went wandering off to Brazil to talk, instead of confessing in Germany or New

When they reach Europe, the family will go touring in the airplane. That is "modern travel."

Jimmy Wedell of Texas wanted to fly in the war; they said, "you can't fly, you've got only one eye." Wedell said, "I'll show them," and

He bought a rickety, dangerous, discarded army plane, patched it up, flew, proving that a one-eyed man could fly, if he had the right brain back of the eye.

Wedell held the world's record for land speed and was killed when a student "froze to the controls." Now Harry P. Williams, wealthy man of the South who backed Jimmy Wedell in his airplane building, is killed flying in his turn, only 16 years old. Both men would rather have been killed flying than never to have had anything to do with flying machines. Some are made to stay on the ground and look up, others fly.

Nothing succeeds like success, especially if increased national glory is part of it. Mussoilni announces amnesty for 495 political prisoners confined on "penal glands," and amnesty is expected or all Italians living abroad, with an invitation to return to Italy and Mussolini might well believe that no anti-Fascist would have the heart to shoot at a man who has given Italy so high a place among the nations, restoring the old Roman title of Emperor to the reigning King. In any case, Mussolini cares little about bullets.

Congressman Sirovich from New York proposed a "union of the United States with Canada." The proposition would have to read "the absorption by Canada of the United States," which would be all right with the

For instance WELL, you wouldn't know the Charles Collins of Hollywoodpartner's opening one no by-the Kleigs-the identical Charles Collins who used to appear over the Publix Circuit in St. Louis and who was slipped into the Clif-Webb role in "As Thousands Cheer" and who married Dorothy Stone, charming daughter of Fred Stone.

In the transition from the stage to Hollywood, Collins found himself suifering from a heretofore unreported dancer's malady, which he refer to as "foot consciousness." Other steppers from the stage and ballroom floor may have had similar symtoms, but Collins' clinical report goes something like this:

"On the stage, when dancing as one or teaming, the performer steered his course by two beacons: First, a selected section of the audience, or more important, you actually danced by the lights. What I mean is that, going into a spin during a dance routine, you pick certain lights and you always know where you are.
"So I got to Hollywood and one of the last scenes required a lot of spins. And the big lights were shooting right at my feet. I didn't know how to steer. I became embarrassed — foot conscious — and time and again. Dracula's Daughter" Is Newest in Thrillers-Other Local Billings.

TOT being up on the genealogy of the better vampire families, we were unaware that that famous old monster, Dracula, had a daughter. We are now informed he had and that she inherited her fa-ther's vampirish tactics. Her story is told on the Ambassador's screen beginning today, and it appears the big moment in the show-"Dracula's Daughter," by name-occurs when the lady must choose between sneaking around at night biting sneaking around at hight bitting people and, well, love. The cast includes Otto Kruger, Gloria Holden, Irving Pichel and Marguerite Churchill. A companion piece, "The First Baby," deals with youthful love, marriage, the fruits thereof, mother-in-law, disappointmen and, then, a rainbow out of the storm and the youthful lovers walking away on it with their off-spring. That isn't exactly the cinematographic effect but you will understand. Principals: Deane, Johnny Downs, Dixie Dunbar, Jane Darwell.

THE Orpheum goes to work to-morrow with "Dancing Pirate," a full length film in technicolor. Robert Edmond Jones, the justly famous stage and screen designer, had a part in it and the producers, not sparing their punches, inform us that it is "startling and of tremendous importance to the future of the entire film industry," so there you are. The picture has to do with days gone by. A young Boston dancing master is shang-haied for sea duty, captured by pirates, and landed on the shores of Spanish California. Love and the Bostonian's terpsichorean ability save him from the rope. The leads in the show are Charles Collins, Frank Morgan, Steffi Duna and Victor Varconi.

OMORROW'S film at the Shubert deals with a woman accused of having put her social registerite husband out of the way But, despite the fervor of the prosecuting attorney, "The Case Against Mrs. Ames" collapses. And that isn't all. Madeleine Carroll (Mrs. Ames) doesn't conceivably care so much about the prosecutor (George Brent), but she thinks he has plenty of legal stuff. She hires him to investigate the killing of her guilty. This is Brent's chance. Now he will get the goods on her And does he? Of course not. Does reader, that is for you to decide Let us close by announcing that besides Miss Carroll and Mr. Brent those who appear on the screen are: Alan Mowbray, Alan Baxter, Guy Rates Post. Dear Mrs. Carr: N JULY I will be 18. I have been going steady with a man 33. Last November I received an engagement ring from him. LESSON IN LOVE

SYNOPSIS:

Fay Lombard, visiting her Aunt Masie in New York, has fallen in love with Brant Fawler, who is assistant to Capt. Mark Haverstrom in the latter's engineering business. Mark and Brant were to return to South America in two months, but Mark has seen Brant kissing Fay and has resolved he will not surrender Fay to the youth. Accordingly, he tells Brant to go to Boston, saying someone has threatened to tamper with the supply of food destined to their South American workmen. Brant reluctantly leaves, giving Mark a letter of explanation to Fay. Mark destroys the letter and Fay thinks Brant has regretted his lovemaking and run away.

A Discussion of the Error of Turn Up.

"But a measure to be filled."

Sounds simple, doesn't it? You'd think that anyone who was dry behind the ears would understand and marie Moore — — 3420 Magnolia hind the ears would understand and marie Moore — — 4042 Cleveland accept that plain and obvious fact. John Hurzeler — — 4301 N. Broadway > loomed Life the mysterious, and, like a child gazing at Santa Claus, Stanley E. Brzostowski — East St. Louis you surveyed its shining marvel. What did Life hold for you? What thrilling advenure waited for you . what flaming romance . . .

what splendid victories? Breathless with excitement-on tip toe with eagerness-you woke to each new dawn, wondering what the day would bring. Dropped to sleep each night, impatient and discouraged because nothing had hap-

Life, to you at 16, was "a goblet to be drained"—a grab bag to be looted. Life was something outside you; something that was going to happen to you-which was perfectly excusable attitude at 16. But did you get over that attitude? Or are you, at 26, 36 or 60 still waiting for something to turn up, and crabbing because it hasn't? Then the sooner you accept the Truth the better for you, partner. "Life is not a goblet to be drained

"BUT A MEASURE TO BE FILLED." Life isn't something that's made for us—BUT SOMETHING THAT

WE MAKE. There are no adventures waiting round the corner . . . unless we put them there. There are no splendid victories, no flaming romances . . . unless we ourselves bring them to pass.

Life may look like a matter of luck-but it never is. We may be born poor, obscure and handicapped or we may inherit money, position and power. But these circum-stances do not shape our life. Our life is shaped within us by our desires and decisions-our own struggles and sacrifices.
"LIFE IS A MEASURE TO BE FILLED." You get out of Life just whatand no more than—you put into it. Your life will be as big or as cramped, as proud or as shabby as successful or as futile as you yourself make it. Life is a one man job, and no one else on earth can do that job for you-or should be expected to Others may smooth the path a bit -lighten your load and brighten your way with love-but even such help is of dubious value, since it may tempt you to lie down and

LIFE IS WHAT YOU MAKE IT. And if you won't get busy on the making, you're just out of luck.

Some idea of the high metal strength of this huge rudder, may be gained when it is realized that it must control no less than 80,773 gross tons, the tonnage of the great Cunard White Star sea queen. The rudder with frame weights 270 tons, which is 90 tons heavier than the entire weight of the Pilgrim ship Mayflower. Interesting features of the Queen Mary's rudder are the two doors which have been fitted into the sides, and the permanent steel ladder running through the "compartment" enclosed by the steel walls of the rudder. Inside there is ample room for several men to walk about. Struts and bars hold all rigidly in place. The great rudder hangs between the lower two of the ships' four big propellers, each of which weighs 35 tons.
